DESCRIPTION

Fresh from manning the barbecue in his highly-successful book Fired Up, Ross Dobson takes a casual approach to indoor dining in Grillhouse. Hearty pies, thick-cut chips and lip-smacking ribs are all featured, along with all manner of steaks cooked to perfection.

The book includes an array of all the essential starters and sides guaranteed to satisfy a hunger of any size, plus a little something sweet to indulge in at the end of a long, slow meal. Grillhouse is the ultimate guide to gastropub-style food at home

KEY SELLING POINTS

- The follow up cookbook from the author of the popular Fired Up, which sold over 23,000 copies sold across two formats
- This is a collection of all time favourite bistro style dishes, featuring 85 delicious, hearty and accessible recipes
- Modern styling and photography complement this classic selection of recipes

AUTHOR PROFILE

Ross' love affair with all things food began at a young age under the influence of his neighbours from Italy and Hong Kong. To enjoy what they ate, Ross found he would have to cook it for himself. After studying writing and communications, Ross found himself constantly drawn to food and in the food-mad town of Sydney he had his own successful cafe and catering business before venturing into the world of food publishing. Ross has several books under his belt and is constantly searching for accessible, exotic ingredients and exploring different cooking techniques.

A Life in Frocks

A Memoir

Kelly Doust

ISBN	9781741968446
BINDING	Paperback with French-fold jacket
EXTENT	256 pages
DIMENSIONS	210 x 140mm
WORD COUNT	61,000
ILLUSTRATIONS	48
RRP	£9.99
RELEASE DATE	7 th February 2011
BIC CODE	BM

DESCRIPTION

A Life in Frocks is about the 'divine obsession' – a woman's love for clothes. In particular, it is a personal, entertaining, joyous – and seductive – exploration on the significance of clothes, filtered through one woman's life-long sartorial infatuation.

For as long as she can remember, Kelly Doust has been passionate about clothes. They are her first, and most enduring, love affair to date. Like the vast majority of women she adores the playfulness of fashion and its endless ability to transform. She loves the ritual and drama of getting dressed, assuming different identities in different outfits and exploring the many facets of personality through clothes. She buys far too many glossy magazines, puzzles over how she can spend half her life shopping, and yet still find herself standing in front of a vast rack of outfits each morning, despairing that she has nothing to wear. Over the years, clothes have comforted her, given her confidence, lured lovers, made her invisible, secured jobs, aged her and given back her youth. And yes, they have betrayed her.

A beautifully illustrated mix of memoir, thoughts, fantasies and conversations with other women, A Life in Frocks is a book for those who love clothes and find fashion beguiling, fickle and fabulous.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Kelly is an engaging and publicity-savvy author who has a strong following on her blog: www.thecraftyminx.com.au
- A personal, entertaining, joyous – and seductive – exploration on the significance of clothes, filtered through one woman's life-long sartorial infatuation
- Lively text supported by bold line illustrations in full colour

AUTHOR PROFILE

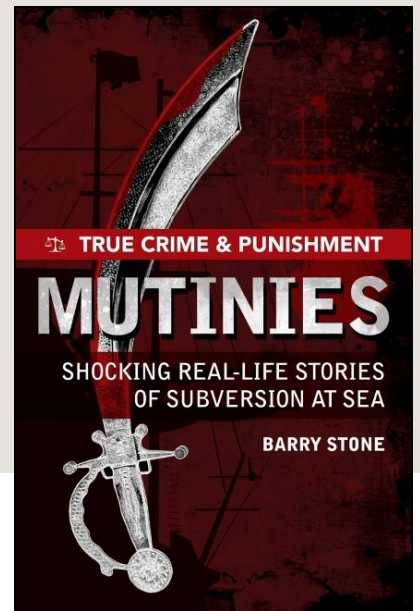

For the better part of a decade, Kelly Doust worked in book publishing and public relations in Sydney, Hong Kong and London, and as a freelance writer on the side. She has been a regular contributor to Vogue Magazine, writes for Australian Women's Weekly and has written for Dazed & Confused, The South China Morning Post's Lifestyle section and various other magazines and newspapers in Australia, Hong Kong and the UK. She is the author of the books The Crafty Minx and The Crafty Kid and her short stories and poetry have been published in a number of collections.

True Crime and Punishment: Mutinies

Shocking real-life stories of subversion at sea

DESCRIPTION

The True Crime & Punishment series delves into some of the most daring, bizarre and bloody crimes from early history through to the present day – and their consequences. It covers a broad range of illegal activity, from mutiny to robbery and espionage. It also looks inside some of the world's grimmest and most isolated places of confinement and reveals how the highest walls, the sharpest wires and the most brutal guards could not defeat a determined will to escape.

Mutinies examines the extreme circumstances that have driven sailors and officers to overthrow authority and commit lethal acts of insubordination. The stories range from mutiny against brutal commanders throughout history to the 'Storozhevoy' mutiny which was the basis for the film The Hunt for Red October. Desperate times called for desperate measures.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- The True Crime & Punishment series features pacy true crime stories from around the globe and from across the centuries
- The stories provide real-life examples of great human courage, drama and adventure
- The eye-catching covers will draw attention to these books on the shelf
- Coming soon in the series: Spy Stories and Prison Islands

AUTHOR PROFILE

Barry Stone is a writer and travel photographer and a graduate of the Australian College of Journalism. His photographs have been widely exhibited. Barry has been a long-time contributor of feature stories and travel pieces to some of Australia's largest daily newspapers, and was a contributing author to the 2006 ABC Books publication Historica: 1000 Years of Our Lives and Times. He is author of the Pier 9 history title I Want to be Alone and co-author of History's Greatest Headlines (Autumn 2010), also under the Pier 9 imprint.
