| RELEASE DATE | 6 th June 2011 |
| BIC CODE | WTH 1KBBEY |

DESCRIPTION

Sibella Court, who worked in New York City for 10 years as an interior stylist for leading American magazines and brands, opens her address book to reveal her favourite places in the world's most exciting and energetic city. Cleverly arranged into loops of interest such as 'Jewellery & Hardware', 'Haberdashers & Handmade' and 'Furniture & Interiors', The Stylist's Guide to NYC takes the first-time visitor – or long-time resident – on a number of surprising and beguiling journeys, uncovering traditional merchants and hidden sanctuaries as well as some of the coolest spots in town. This well-edited collection of stores, services, galleries, markets and refuelling stops also contains city survival tips, maps and comprehensive indexes. An idiosyncratic travel guide celebrating the beautiful, the curious and the unexpected, and chosen with the impeccable eye of an insider, The Stylist's Guide to NYC is an indispensable accessory for anyone visiting, working or living in New York.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Includes clear and detailed maps for each loop and a pull-out map of Manhattan folded into an inside cover pocket.
- Highly illustrated with Sibella's own photographs of shop interiors and New York street scenes.
- Comprehensive indexes arranged by zip code and type of product mean the guide can also be used by locals looking for a fabric shop or visitors wanting to explore one district.

AUTHOR PROFILE

After living and working as an interior stylist in NYC for 10 years, Sibella Court was drawn back home to summer days by the beach in Sydney, where she opened her haberdashery meets hardware store, The Society Inc., a home for all the flea market finds and artisan pieces she's collected and uncovered over years of globetrotting. Sibella, who has appeared on Keith Johnson's show, Man Shops Globe, on the Sundance Channel, designs commercial interiors for the Merivale Group and contributes to InsideOut, Vogue Living and Harper's Bazaar. Her first book is the bestseller Etcetera: Creating beautiful interiors with the things you love. She has also created a 120-palette paint range for Murobond and a hardware range exclusively for Anthropologie and The Society Inc. Sibella is constantly on the lookout for beautiful and curious things.

Once a Jolly Hangman

True Stories from Singapore's Death Row

Alan Shadrake

| | |
|--------------|---------------------------|
| ISBN | 9781742663739 |
| BINDING | Paperback |
| EXTENT | 224 pages |
| DIMENSIONS | 234 x 153mm |
| WORD COUNT | 65,000 |
| PHOTOGRAPHS | 19 |
| RRP | £12.99 |
| RELEASE DATE | 6 th June 2011 |
| BIC CODE | JFMC |

DESCRIPTION

Does Singapore have one rule for locals caught with drugs and another for wealthy foreigners? Why was Australian Nguyen Van Tuong hanged in 2005 while others escaped the noose? And why will the Lion City never hang another Filipina maid?

Singapore has one of the highest execution rates per capita in the world. Its government claims that only the death penalty can deter drug dealers from using their country as a transport hub – but this hard-hitting investigation reveals disturbing truths about how and when the death penalty is applied.

Including in-depth interviews with Darshan Singh – Singapore's chief executioner for nearly fifty years – and chilling accounts of high-profile cases, this is an horrific exposé of the gross abuse of human rights.

When this book was first published in Asia in July 2010, UK journalist Alan Shadrake was arrested and tried, then sentenced to jail – for daring to put the Singapore justice system in the dock. This revised and updated edition covers Shadrake's arrest, and his ongoing campaign against the death penalty as he prepares for his appeal.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Alan is a serious campaigner against the death penalty and his arrest and imprisonment has received considerable media coverage in Australia and the UK.
- The book includes a foreword by Julian Burnside QC, a well-known Australian human rights lawyer.
- Once a Jolly Hangman will appeal to readers of true crime and human rights stories.
- The subject of the death penalty is of great interest to Australian audiences following cases like Shapelle Corby and the Bali Nine. Whether people are 'for' or 'against' the harsh penalties in countries like Singapore, this topic remains highly emotive.

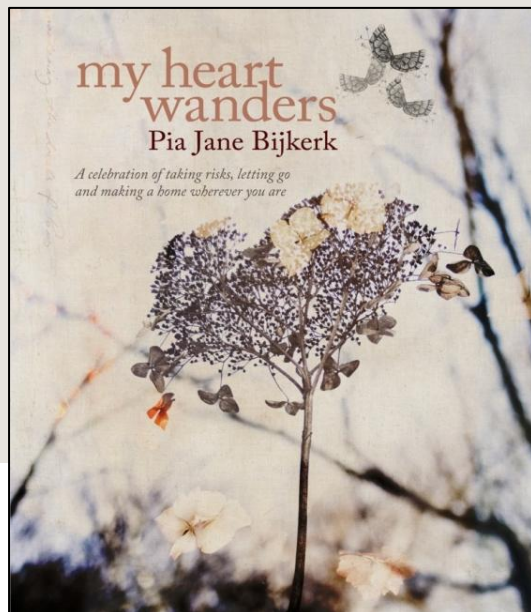

AUTHOR PROFILE

Alan Shadrake is a British journalist based in Malaysia and the UK. His book, Once a Jolly Hangman, was published in Singapore in July 2010. Alan was immediately arrested by the Singaporean government and charged with 14 separate offences. He was found guilty of criminal defamation and sentenced to 6 weeks' jail and a S$20,000 fine. His case has received considerable media attention internationally, and he has written this revised and updated edition of the book while awaiting his appeal.

My Heart Wanders

In The Name of Peace

How history's great pacifists changed the world

Erin Ladd Sanders

| | |
|--------------|---------------------------|
| ISBN | 9781741965674 |
| BINDING | Paperback with flaps |
| EXTENT | 304 pages |
| DIMENSIONS | 240 x 192mm |
| WORD COUNT | 100,000 |
| PHOTOGRAPHS | 32 |
| RRP | £17.99 |
| RELEASE DATE | 6 th June 2011 |
| BIC CODE | HBT |

DESCRIPTION

In the Name of Peace discusses the leaders, great and small, whose adherence to nonviolence, even in the face of ruinous opposition, has changed the course of history. Pacifist leaders and their philosophies have affected societies, shaped the outcomes of conflict and enriched civilisation. At the same time, pacifist action has brought about cultural ruin, prolonged conflict, and left societies vulnerable and stagnating due to passive leadership. This book offers the compelling and dramatic stories of eighteen of these leaders (including Mahavira, Jesus, Leo Tolstoy, Jane Addams, Jean Jaures, Mohandas Gandhi and Daw Aung San Suu Kyi) and provides context around how those opposed to violence have affected world culture.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- For readers of social history and general history; and those interested in the flipside of military history.
- The scope of the book covers the globe and ranges from ancient times up to the present-day.
- An in-depth analysis that presents an original approach by examining both the positive and the negative aspects of pacifism.

AUTHOR PROFILE

American writer Erin Sanders has covered everything from Shaolin fighting monks to Appalachian theatre for such publications as Travel + Leisure, Taxi and American Theater. For the screen Erin has written the documentary The Nat Turner Insurrection of 1831 and episodes of ABC Television's One Life to Live and PBS Television's Ghost Writer series. Erin's stage credits include the Broadway comedy Sally Marr...and Her Escorts, with Joan Rivers and Lonny Price, about the mother of famed comedian Lenny Bruce; Little Men (Off-Broadway, winner National Archives Playwriting Award); Snapshots (Off-Broadway); and Dear Miss America (Edinburgh Festival).

DESCRIPTION

Reg Grundy is one of the most successful Australian media and television entrepreneurs of his generation. He is also a notoriously private individual. Here for the first time he tells his life story, in his own words. The book is replete with colourful and charming anecdotes about his over 30 years in Australian television, from the first days of broadcasting, to his internationally successful game shows such as Wheel of Fortune, Sale of the Century and Perfect Match, to the dramas that most Australians will fondly remember – including The Restless Years, The Young Doctors, Prisoner, Sons and Daughters, and the most successful of all, Neighbours. This is the full story behind the man behind the shows. Reg Grundy was always at the coalface and he certainly had a talent for creating a winner, but his was not always a Midas touch – there were dizzying highs and terrifying lows during his career. But in the end his story is one of amazing determination, risk-taking, salesmanship and ingenuity.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Insightful and engaging, this autobiography will appeal to those keen for an insight into the man behind so much of Australian television history
- Includes a range of photographs from Reg Grundy's career
- Reg's story is embellished by astute words from his wife, actress and author Joy Chambers, as well as a host of personalities and colleagues
- Includes behind-the-scenes stories from an incredibly influential era in Australian media

AUTHOR PROFILE

Reg Grundy was born in 1923 and started his media career as a boxing and general sports commentator for radio station 2SM Sydney in 1947. While at 2CH Sydney in 1957, he devised and hosted the Wheel of Fortune game show on radio, moving with that show to television, starting on Channel 9 in 1959. After forming his own production company he began producing game shows for the Australian and overseas market, before eventually branching out into drama in 1973. The company subsequently produced numerous successful television soap operas and drama series including The Restless Years, The Young Doctors, Prisoner, Sons and Daughters and Neighbours, as well as famed game shows such as Sale of the Century and Perfect Match. A great number of Reg's programs sold internationally. He was awarded the Founders Award at the 24th International Emmy Awards in 1996. The International Emmy Founders Award recognises an individual who has made an impact on the television industry and crosses cultural boundaries. Previous recipients include Oprah Winfrey, Bill Cosby, Jim Henson and Sir David Attenborough. Reg is married to the actress and author, Joy Chambers, who has appeared in several of his soaps. They live in Bermuda.
